

WORK OF CONGRESS FOR THIS WEEK

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM IS ALL MADE OUT.

Some Important Measures Will Be Considered In House and Senate—Nicaragua Canal Bill Has Right of Way in the Senate—Washington News

Washington, Feb. 1.—The time of the House this week probably will be devoted almost entirely to the consideration of appropriations, of which the consular and diplomatic and the District of Columbia are on the calendar. The fortifications and sundry civil also will be ready before the end of the week. The District of Columbia bill contains a large number of items of local importance to the district, which will cause considerable debate, but there is little in the diplomatic bill to create conflict. It can be, however, and usually is, productive of more or less debate on our foreign relations. It is possible that an effort will be made in the House, as it was in the committee, to raise the salaries of consuls below $2,500, which were placed under the protection of the civil service by Mr. Cleveland, to the latter figure in order to afford the incoming administration an opportunity to displace the existing officials. It is possible that the rules committee may decide to give the House a chance to vote this week on the international monetary conference bill, which passed the senate last Friday. The advocates of the pooling bill also are pressing for its consideration.

The week in the Senate will open with further discussion of the Nicaragua Canal bill. It is expected that this bill will be disposed of in some manner during the first half of the week. Senator Morgan has given notice that he will ask the Senate to go on with it today, and it was inferred generally when he gave the notice that he would ask the Senate to sit Monday night until a vote should be secured.

If the Nicaragua bill does not reach a vote by the middle of the week, there will be great pressure to get up other measures. It appears most probable that the bankruptcy bill will be given first place on the calendar, barring appropriations bills and conference reports.

Senator Lodge expects to secure consideration of the conference report on the immigration bill during the week.

KILLED IN BRAZIL.

French Prospectors Fired Upon in the Disputed Territory. Georgetown, British Guiana, Feb. 1.—Intelligence has been received here from Cayenne, the capital of French Guiana, of a most determined attack having been made by a band of armed Brazilians, under the command of "Gen." Perez, upon a number of French prospectors in the Cachipour district, in the disputed territory between Brazil and French Guiana, resulting in the death of one man—a French subject—and the capture and imprisonment of six others. The matter will be reported by the governor of Cayenne to the French government.

Treaty Not Yet Signed.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The British-Venezuela treaty has not advanced to a stage where it can be said with any definiteness when it will be signed, and there is no present agreement for signing the document in time for it to go by the steamers leaving for Venezuela in the near future. The negotiations are in such condition, however, that the several essential points still open may be closed at any time. The acceptance of King Oscar to act as arbitrator has not yet been received, and in view of recent criticisms of the monarch this may occasion delay, although there is no serious apprehension of such a contingency.

Fruit Growers Want Tariff.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 1.—In consideration of the fact that congress is to be convened in extra session to enact a tariff law as soon as President McKinley is fairly seated in the presidential chair the citrus fruit growers of southern California have started a campaign in behalf of California oranges. The growers want to secure the prohibition of fruit from the infected districts in Mexico and a duty on other foreign fruits sufficiently high to place the cost of marketing it on an equality with California oranges.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—National Populist Secretary J. A. Edgerton of Lincoln, Neb., has written a call for a national conference of Populists at Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 23, and forwarded it to Chairman Marion Butler urging him to issue the same.

ment was made necessary by the recent carriage accident in which she was injured. Her present condition is pronounced favorable, but it is announced by the doctors that prolonged rest is imperative.

TAYLOR, THE OUTLAW, IN JAIL.

Murderer of the Meeks Family Said to Have Been Captured.

Hanford, Cal., Feb. 1.—Sheriff Buckner is positive he has captured George Taylor, the notorious Missouri outlaw and murderer, who escaped the hangman's noose for the murder of the Meeks family. Friday B. F. Lane, who knew Taylor well in Missouri, saw him on the streets of Hanford. He immediately notified Sheriff Buckner, but by that time the man had left town and the officers lost track of him. Later, however, he was located in a sheep camp fourteen miles southwest of Hanford, near Tulare lake. The sheriff organized a posse and went in pursuit. They surrounded the camp and took Taylor completely by surprise. With him was a young boy who was also arrested. The two were brought back to Hanford and are now in jail. The captured man denies that he is the much-wanted Taylor.

CROSSES THE TROCHA.

Cuban Force Easily Passes Gen. Weyler's Fortifications.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 1.—Mayia Rodriguez, who has been commanding the insurgents in Havana Province since Aguirre's death, crossed the trocha with a strong force last Thursday night and is now in Pinar del Rio. Rodriguez crossed to relieve Ruis Rivera, who has been appointed to command the Havana insurgents. As soon as Rodriguez arrived in Pinar del Rio Gen. Rivera, with 500 picked men, crossed the line near Mariel, and is now in charge of the insurgents in Havana Province. Both Rodriguez and Rivera crossed the line at what are considered strong points, but they were not molested. It is thought in Havana that this change of leadership is preparatory to a most aggressive campaign by the Cubans.

Muslims Rob and Kill.

London, Feb. 1.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Athens, dated Sunday, says that serious news has been received from Seraklion. It is stated that ten Christians were murdered Thursday while outside the gates of the city, and that armed bands of Muslims leave the town daily for the purpose of plundering and burning the villages of the Christians. The dispatch adds that these outrages are evidently in accordance with hints received from Constantinople. The situation is so serious that the foreign consuls have wired the governor-general of Crete, calling for the adoption immediately of stringent measures looking to the protection of the people.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 1.—The firm of Perkins & Perkins, composed of Lester and Charles G. Perkins, proprietors of the Des Moines Fuel and Lime company, made a voluntary assignment on Saturday night. SHIP IN BAD SHAPE BECAUSE OF ROCK

UNITED STATES CRUISER BROOKLYN HELPLESS.

One of the Latest Acquisitions of the American Navy Unable to Navigate the Delaware River—Hole Stove in Her Hull—Marblehead in Trouble Too.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1.—The United States cruiser Brooklyn, the latest pride of the American navy, calculated to withstand the fiercest onslaught of shot and shell, lies almost utterly helpless in Delaware River. The Brooklyn is the latest and most modern pattern of an armored cruiser in the navy, and was launched at Cramps' shipyard Oct. 2. She is the only vessel in the navy having a complete electrical apparatus for moving her turrets. Her cost, exclusive of armament, was $2,986,000. Her battery consists of eight 8-inch breech-loading rifles of 35 caliber, twelve 5-inch breech-loading rifles of the rapid-fire type, twelve 6-pounder rapid-fire guns, four 1-pounder rapid-fire guns and four machine guns.

While trying to navigate the river the cruiser struck heavily upon a narrow ledge of sunken rocks in the Delaware River. Her lower double compartments, forward, were completely stove in, and it was only by the merest good fortune that the big vessel did not sink. This would undoubtedly have been the result had not her inner compartments successfully withstood the shock. She was pulled clear of the rocks and is now tied to the big stone ice-breakers at Marcus Hook, protected from the heavy ice gorges in mid-river.

The big vessel is seriously damaged, and it is impossible to say when she will be able to go into active service. How the accident occurred can only be established by a court of inquiry, and this Captain Cook of the Brooklyn has already asked for.

ANOTHER CRIPPLED WARSHIP.

The Marblehead Gets Out of Drydock Only to Break a Dynamo.

New York, Feb. 1.—Another gunboat, the Marblehead, is in trouble. She has been for some time undergoing repairs in the Brooklyn navy yard and was to have left today for Hampton Roads to participate in the naval maneuvers. It was reported that the big forward dynamo had broken down and that it would take three or four days to repair it. Unless something else occurs it is expected that the Marblehead will be able to sail for Hampton Roads by Wednesday.

CHAMBERLAIN SANGUINE.

Expects Great Results from the Arbitration Agreement.

Birmingham, England, Feb. 1.—At the dinner of the Jewelers' and Silversmiths' association the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the state for the colonies, after referring to the relations between Great Britain and other countries, said the cloud which recently overshadowed the relations of the empire with the United States had been dispelled by mutual concessions, honorable alike to the statesmen of both countries. This, he added, was an achievement worthy of the jubilee of the queen. He asserted in conclusion that even though the United States senate rejected the negotiations looking toward the establishment of an Anglo-American arbitration tribunal, the negotiations themselves could not fail to have had their effect on the common sense, on the justice and on the Christian sentiment of the two great peoples.

Train Wrecker Found Guilty.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 1.—Andrew Fagan, colored, alleged leader of a gang of negro miners who formed a conspiracy to wreck trains and threw the Southern Railway Washington express off the track on McComb trestle, ninety feet high, near Birmingham, on Dec. 23, was found guilty. The penalty is ten years in the penitentiary, but the present Legislature will probably make it death. Fagan's pals are yet to be tried.

Bidding for the Big Fight.

Carson, Nev., Feb. 1.—It has been learned that Reno had raised $5,000 to offer Dan Stuart as a bonus to take the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight to that place and that Virginia City will raise Reno by $1,000. Carson is staying in the background when it comes to bidding, but this by no means signifies that she is lacking in vigilance. On the other hand, there is a great deal of work being done here, and when the time comes it is expected to count.

Fleet to Be Inspected.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—It is reported in naval circles that a commission under Admiral Avelan will shortly go to the Black Sea for the purpose of inspecting the fleet there. New York, Feb. 1.—A special to the World from Washington says that the American sugar planters in Cuba at last have taken a decided stand. On their demand Secretary Olney has cabled to the Madrid government that the grinding of sugar cane on American plantations in Cuba must be permitted to proceed immediately, or claims against Spain for heavy damages daily from Jan. 1 will be filed at the state department.

CUBANS USE DYNAMITE.

Wreck Spanish Train and Kill Many of the Troops.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 1.—The Commercial-Tribune's special from Key West says that on Friday one of Gen. Weyler's supply trains was dynamited on the railroad near Ciego, north of Cienfuegos. Two bombs were exploded under the engine and four under the train, being fired by electricity as the train was crossing a trestle. The engine was blown apart and all the cars were splintered. They rolled over the trestle into the ditch, the fall completing what the dynamite had left undone.

Out of the guard of 100 soldiers on it, forty-five were instantly killed or terribly injured. The others surrendered, as a force of 200 Cubans appeared. The train was looted, the insurgents securing a small field piece that Gen. Weyler had just ordered from Havana. After securing all the provisions and ammunition, the cars were burned.

CUBAN REFORM POSSIBILITIES.

The Government Merely Willing to Do Certain Things Some Time.

London, Feb. 1.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard announces that he may say that the contemplated Cuban program will do nothing more than assert the willingness of the government to entertain suggestions for the reforms of the West Indian tariff, and the subsequent improvement of commercial relations with the United States, a question which it is estimated the government and the cortex must approach cautiously, both measures being likely to clash with the Spanish agricultural and manufacturing interests, as well as the interests of the powers in matters growing out of the situation in Cuba and Puerto Rico. In conclusion, he announces that it is premature to suppose that colonial reforms in the present condition of the colonies can be shaped as to resemble the Canadian or the Australian systems of self-government.

Another Serious Wreck.

Havana, Feb. 1.—At 6:30 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 28, military train with engine No. 17, carrying Capt. Dupla and a force of engineers, left Artemisa, and while passing a culvert at a place called Ocegüera, between Candelaria and Mangas stations, a dynamite bomb exploded, destroying the engine and the armored tender, as well as the culvert, also wrecking several of the cars. Engineer Genaro Rodriguez, an American, Ciraco Carreras, the fireman, and three soldiers were killed. Military Doctor Gonzales Aedo, the conductor, the brakemen and twelve private soldiers were wounded. Capt. Dupla and the sergeant escaped injury. The bodies of the engineer and the fireman were sent to Havana for burial.

All of these edicts were dated and proclaimed yesterday from the general staff headquarters at Cruces.

The pool has been inoperative ever since the break in prices last fall."

The body of Haugh, partly burned, was found in the ruins of the Hotel Switzerland which was destroyed by fire yesterday. His body was in a cistern in the basement, and near it was found a revolver with two empty chambers, indicating that he had committed suicide. A coroner's jury found in accordance with these facts. It is now certain that Haugh set fire to the hotel with the intention of perishing in the flames. Before doing so he wrote a letter to his wife, from whom he had been separated several weeks, saying that his body would be found in the ruins of the hotel, which he said he intended to burn. Since he and his wife separated Haugh has been very despondent, and has spoken of killing himself. He was forty years old, and had lived in Nashotah ten years.

WHAT PASTORS SAID TO THEIR FLOCKS

SYNOPSIS OF SERMONS HEARD YESTERDAY.

Rev. E. H. Pence Spoke of "The Signature of God," and Said Time Had Not Changed Its Character—Rev. Dr. Halsey Talks of "Rest"—At Baptist Church.

At the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Pence spoke for a few moments yesterday morning on "The Signature of God," taking for his text God's words to Moses, "I am the Lord."—Exodus 6:8. This is the signature of God. When God commanded Moses to go to the children of Israel with a message of comfort, Moses asked, "What surety shall I offer my people that I come to them with a message from God, and not from myself? What is his name?" God answered, "I am that I am. Say unto the people I have sent thee."

The world's conception of God dates its origin back to that conversation in the desert between the Midian shepherd and the invisible Being with whom he talked. God had wrought into this man's intellect for over eighty years just to prepare it for this moment, and how often we may think when some conception sweeps over our soul that God has been preparing us, by the toils of years before, just for that moment.

And I love to think that God had appeared vaguely to this man's mother. How many a man finds that his greatest ideas are not altogether strangers to his mind. How much the world owes to great mothers through great sons. Moses had a new conception of God, which men before him had not had. The world never could have been saved through Abraham's or Isaac's or Jacob's conception of God. When the children of Israel left Egypt, people possessed for the first time, an idea of God which forbade the possibility of any other God existing. Men are born into the world. The ancients, in imagination, traced their gods back to a birthday, but God who spoke to Moses was self-existent. He was born of no one. He existed eternally. He was the Creator of of everything. Accurate, thinking, and reasoning from Moses' desert conception of God reveals the fact that all right and all righteousness center in God. There in the desert God but wrote out his name that our conscience might identify the signature of Him who still writes the same clear signature.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was held by the Lookout committee. It was the sixteenth anniversary of the founding of the first Christian Endeavor society and there was a special program, in which the cardinal points of the plan were discussed. After the meeting, the petition to the legislature for the passage of the anti-cigarette bill was circulated and signed by all members present.

There will be an Old Maids Convention in the church parlors Friday evening.

REV. DR. SABIN HALSEY'S SERMON
The Eloquent Pastor of Court Street Church Talks of Rest.

Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey preached to a good sized audience at Court Street yesterday morning. His subject was "Rest" based on scripture from Matthew 11:28.

Christ gave to the world great thoughts, prominent among them this helpful thought of "rest." The text presents the cheerful side of Christian life and suggests rest from weariness of various kinds. Physical, intellectual, moral, in fact, all the faculties of the body and mind, sometimes grow weary, and seek in vain for rest. To these conditions come the words of Jesus, the Divine Orator, in messages of comfort, of peace, and hope, fulfilling a mission which was not only salvation from sin, but bringing to the weary that priceless pearl "rest."

Perplexity, speculation and skepticism are three agents that contribute largely to intellectual unrest and weariness.

Faith, the great motive power, comes to the relief and resting on this Divine attribute, the mind and soul, finds perfect rest.

It is no longer popular to be skeptical concerning the word of God. All great minds today accept inspired truth, trusting with sublime faith when vision fails.

Sin creates unrest and a weary conscience perplexed and wearied by disobedience, finds perfect rest only in loyal obedience.

There comes to every life at some time during its experience, the "Parting of the Ways." On one hand pointing down the broad avenue of pleasure and worldliness stands the goddess of pleasure bedecked with jewels and gorgeous raiment, enticing a vast throng towards a destiny of weariness and sorrow. On the other hand the King of Kings royal in his majesty beckons and says, "Come unto me take my yoke upon you, and ye shall find rest to your souls."

The sermon closed with an earnest appeal to accept the truth.

REV. DR. M. G. HODGE'S THEME
Large Congregation Heard His Able Sermon Yesterday—Coming Events.

A beautiful morning brought out a large congregation to hear Dr. Hodge, at the Baptist church yesterday, his text being 1 Cor. 15:58, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord."

Paul had been giving the greatest argument for the resurrection of Christ from the dead, ever given, and now he calls them to the real Christian living. If we are going into eternity we must live right here. Be steadfast:

1st. In the truth; have a foundation for your belief; stand upon the fundamental revelations of scripture; be ye steadfast.

2d. In the purpose of obedience. What is needed now is not only faith, but obedience to God's law.

3d. Be steadfast in reliance upon God. Don't be like Peter, but David-like, trust in God, and then do right. Be ye unmovable, by any human solicitation. Be like Paul and the Christian martyrs. Don't be enticed to engage in worldly amusements that kill spiritual life and influence. Be unmovable when enticed by Satan. Don't be an Ananias. Be immovable by shifting currents among people. The popular currents are not always right so we ought to examine them and then stand immovable for the right.

Christians ought to abound in the work of saving souls, in the edifying of the church and giving the gospel to the world. Acquaint yourself with the needs of the world and then do all you can to give life to the lost.

In the evening there was a large attendance at the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting. Mr. Shattuck led the meeting the subject being "Endeavors Loyal to Christ, What Will They Do?"

Dr. Hodge's evening subject was "Faith." There was quite a large congregation present.

Next Thursday evening the regular monthly covenant and business meeting. A large attendance is desired. Mrs. Wood will give another lecture on "Honduras" on Tuesday, Feb. 9.

SAMUEL GOMPERS HERE TONIGHT
Will Lecture at All Souls Church—Admission to Be Free

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and probably the best known labor leader in the United States, will lecture at All Souls church this evening. Mr. Gompers is called the most conservative advocate of labor's rights in the country, and is not a "ranger" He speaks here under the auspices of the Trades Assembly, and his address will be well worth hearing.

Samuel Gompers, who has been re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor, is about 45 years of age and was born in London. He came to the United States when 13 years of age and worked as a cigar maker until he became prominent in labor circles. He has picked ed up a fair education at night schools, is a reader, a thinker and good speaker. His salary is $1,800 a year. Governor Hill once offered to appoint him a member of the New York state board of arbitration, with a salary of $3,000, but Mr. Gompers declined it. The American Federation of Labor owes its existence primarily to Mr. Gompers, and he has been elected its president year after year.

CHINESE NEW YEAR HAS BEGUN
Janesville Chinamen Will Be Celebrating More or Less for a Week.

The Chinese New Year commenced at midnight last night, and Janesville Chinamen will continue to celebrate the holiday in a more or less demonstrative manner for a week after the New Year has begun. The first day of the festivities is of a less demonstrative character, and more in the nature of crackers, etc. After that, however, the festivities will be more in the nature of reception, at which good things will be passed around among the callers at the homes of the Chinamen.

There is not much difference in human nature. The Christians take the period from Christmas eve to after New Year's for our holidays and John Chinamen take the two weeks starting with his New Year. Almost all the Chinamen's holiday dainties, delicacies, toys and games are brought from his native land, although a few, including fine fruit and vegetable preserves are made in this country or in the West Indies. The celestials like confections, sweet meats, fruits and bright colors just as much as do the Americans. Their favorite luxury is crystallized fruit of some sort. One of their delicacies is a little bitter orange about the size and appearance of a nutmeg, but extremely delicious and easy of digestion. They crystallize the date, the plum, the peach, the apricot, lime, fresh ginger root and watermelon rind, and eat them as we do ordinary fruit. The crystallized ginger has all of the flavor and delicacy of ginger with none of its bite. Besides these crystallized preparations are jars of the same and of other fruits as those described which are preserved in honey or in white syrup. Canned vegetables and meat imported from his native land now constitute a portion of the New Year's feasts. Among these are oysters and clams, li-chees, mangosteens, mangoes, and dragon eyes, ginger root and loquots.

BIG CROWD PRESENT AT THE INSTITUTE

EVANSVILLE MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Meetings Were Very Largely Attended and the Room Was Too Small—Charity Ball on Feb. 12—Other News Notes From "The New City."

Evansville, Feb. 1.—The Farmer's Institute held in this city Thursday and Friday was largely attended, and all were deeply interested in the discussions of the various topics, and declared it to be the best of the kind ever held in this place. The Ladies' Auxiliary held their meetings in the city hall in the afternoon, and the hall was far too small to accommodate the ladies, who were eager to hear the contents of the papers. Evansville is the keystone of the state, having been the first city where there was a Ladies' Auxiliary held in connection with the Farmers' Institute. Very much credit is due to the president, Mrs. Vic Campbell, who did a great deal toward pushing the idea forward. All hope that an institute will be held again next year.

LOST LIGHT.

I cannot make her smile again, That sunshine on her face That used to make this worn earth seem At times so gay a place.

The same dear eyes look out at me. The features are the same. But, oh, the smile is out of them, And I must be to blame.

Sometimes I see it still. I went With her the other day To meet a long missed friend, and while We still were on the way Her confidence in waiting love Brought back to me to see The old time loveliness to her eyes That will not shine for me.

They tell me money waits for me. They say I might have fame. I like those gossams quite as well As others like the same. But I care not for what I have Nor lust for what I lack One time as much as my heart longs To call that lost light back.

Come back, dear banished smile, come back, And into exile drive All thoughts and aims and jealous hopes That in thy stead would thrive. Who wants the earth without its sun? And what has life for me That's worth a thought if as its price It leaves me robbed of thee?

—Edward S. Martin in Scribner's.

The Greatest Monarch.

Is a fit subject for pity if he is troubled with dyspepsia, while his poorest subject who digests properly may feel envied by a prince that afflicted. The dyspeptic of every clime and nation owe a debt of gratitude to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which rescues them from one of the most obstinate and troublesome complaints against which medical skill is directed. On this continent, in Europe and the tropics, this sterling remedy is preeminently and justly popular, not only as a stomachic, but also as a means of preventing and curing malarial, rheumatic, kidney, bilious and nervous disorders. It improves appetite and sleep, hastens convalescence and the acquisition of vigor after exhausting malarial, and counteracts the infirmities of age. A wineglassful taken before retiring has a tendency to promote tranquil, healthy sleep a boon much coveted by nervous invalids.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

WHICH CURED HIM AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED.

THE METHOD OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times more than the most severe pain. There is no let up to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible and under such a strain men are scarcely responsible for what they do. For years the writer rolled and tossed on the troubled sea of sexual weakness until it was a question whether he had better take a dose of poison and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but there are thousands of men suffering the mental tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that cured me. Do not try to study out how I can afford to pay the postpaid stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it, and learn that there are few things on earth that will do so much for nothing to get them are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to most of us. Write to Thomas Slater, Box 44, Kalamazoo, Mich., and the information will be mailed in a plain sealed envelope.

THE INHERITANCE TAX.

Jamesville business men, banded together in the Twilight club, discussed with considerable thoroughness, the New York inheritance law. They found very little to criticize and much to commend in the law.

Comptroller Roberts is not quite so sanguine. He believes in the law, but points out faulty details. A copy of his report has just been received by The Gazette. It opens with the declaration that the collection of the tax last year was not attended with as satisfactory results as could have been desired. The amount collected was not as large as that of the year previous, while the difficulty and expense of the work of collection seems to be increasing. This is largely due to the ingenuity and skill of lawyers in drafting wills and deeds of trust so as to defeat the provisions of the law. A favorite method with them is the drawing of a will so as to create intermediate remainders, or trusts, and thus render it impossible to fix the tax until the fulfillment of the conditions under which the trust or life estate is created.

Comptroller Roberts points out, however, that the theory of the law is that a tax is due upon an estate at the time of the death of the owner, and that it should be paid after the lapse of a reasonable time for settlement. This being so, there is no good reason why payment should be delayed indefinitely and possibly entirely avoided, by the injection into a will of complicated conditions as to where portions of the estate may ultimately go. If a husband wills that his wife shall have a life use of his estate and that it shall then go to their children, it is manifest that the tax would be 1 per cent. whether paid at the husband's death or years afterwards, at the wife's death. It is hard to see, therefore, why it should not be collected at once upon the husband's death? The same is true of an estate going to collaterals. The tax will be 5 per cent., whether paid promptly or after certain conditions of the will have been complied with, or fulfilled years later. Comptroller Roberts wants the law amended so as to secure payment of the tax on all estates that are taxable, within a definite period and without years of delay and uncertainty.

The comptroller urges also that the legislature give very serious consideration to the question as to whether the collateral inheritance or transfer tax laws should not be materially amended so as to provide a graded scale that will make large estates yield very much more tax than they now do. At present an estate going to lineals, that is heirs of the blood, pays 1 per cent, and one going to collaterals and strangers to the blood pays 5 per cent. All estates going to lineals, real and personal, under $10,000, are exempt from taxation, and only the personal property of the lineals above $10,000 is taxable. Estates of less than $500, real and personal, going to collaterals, are exempt, but both the realty and personalty of the collateral above $500 are taxed. Bequests to domestic and religious corporations and to bishops are exempt.

It will be seen from this that a grading of the tax is attempted in the present law, but in no consistent way. According to the point, however, may nullify the entire law as it did in Illinois, Comptroller Roberts can afford to make haste slowly.

If a bill against profanity, which has been introduced in the Kansas legislature, should become a law, some of the members will have to discover a new way to relieve their pent up feelings.

England may have unconsciously done this country a great favor by inducing Nicaragua to protest against the canal bill now before congress; not only by arousing our people to the necessity of getting up a better plan for the construction of the canal, but by showing England's real position.

It is suggested to the medical faddists who are now making war upon the poor consumptives that another way to make the world healthy would be to kill every person known to have any disease. We have read somewhere of a nation of barbarians who killed its sick and old.

Chairman Dingley has not been favorably impressed with the desire of the Canadian government for a reciprocity arrangement with us, nor has anybody else. True to their English instincts the Canadians are after getting something for nothing.

Limiting luxury by law is too much like making the rich keep all the money they have to be popular with envious people. The more luxuries the rich have the more money they spend, and the more money they spend the better it is for the rest of us.

The republican candidate for treasurer of South Dakota was elected by a majority of two in a total vote exceeding 90,000. It is victories like that which teach the importance of single votes.

The list of Wisconsin people who pine for federal positions, fills two columns in the Sentinel. The country is safe while patriots do thus about.

It is now said that Dick Crocker must choose between going back into politics and getting some more money or getting out of horse racing.

Wisconsin probably will fail to get a place in the McKinley cabinet—a thing for which she may thank her own people and nobody else.

Thinks Session Will Be Brief.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Apropos of the extra session, Senator Faulkner is of the opinion that it will last at least three months. He says that it is not the intention of the democrats to filibuster against the passage of the tariff bill. According to him, the democrats will content themselves with a general debate of the bill. He says that the debate will not be hastened and will be thorough. But that, when the democrats have had their say—that is, have expressed their views on the provisions of the measure—they will do nothing to postpone the vote. If Senator Faulkner be correct, the extra session will adjourn about the middle of June.

Senator Dubois Has Faith.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 1.—Senator Dubois, accompanied by Secretary Walsh of the Democratic national committee, has left for the east. He made a speech to the crowd in the street in front of his hotel, and was called out of the car to address a crowd that surged upon the depot platform. He reiterated his belief in the paramount character of the financial issue, declaring that prosperity could not return under the existing single-gold standard.

Brutal Murder in Utah.

Goshen, Utah, Feb. 1.—A shocking murder and suicide took place here yesterday. Bartholomew Race shot and killed his wife while she was sick in bed and then turned the weapon upon himself. Race locked the older children out of the house. His wife pleaded for her life, but the man, who had planned the murder, would not listen to her protests. Nine children remain, the youngest of whom is only 4 days old.

Generous Gift to a University.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 1.—Thursday in Chattanooga there was held the annual meeting of the executive council of the board of trustees of the University of the South at Sewanee. The most important incident of the meeting was the donation by Mr. Hoffman of New York of $60,000 for the building of dormitories at Sewanee for college purposes. The work of construction will commence at once.

Sultan Forbids Annual Pilgrimage.

Vienna, Feb. 1.—The Turkish ambassador has notified the Austrian government of the sultan's adhesion to the international plague conference at Venlo, also of the sultan's peremptory forbiddance of the pilgrimage to Mecca because of the prevalence of the pest. The sultan's notification has made an excellent impression.

S. S. Chase Secures a Judgment Against George VanEtta

Another of the VanEtta suits has been disposed of by Judge Bennett. In the suit of S. S. Chase vs. George VanEtta George D. Simpson was appointed receiver with bonds at $300 Judge Bennett ordered:

"That the defendants be directed to deliver to said receiver all property and effects in their hands belonging to said VanEtta, not by law exempt from seizure and sale on execution particularly the income under the last will and testament of Nancy A. McLean."

"That a copy of this order be served upon George G. Sutherland, trustee and that upon such service he turn over to said receiver all the income due and to become due to George N. VanEtta from the said estate of Nancy A. McLean or sufficient therefor to pay the judgment herein with interests and costs."

A judgment for $75 was rendered in the garnishee case of Michigan Stove Co. vs. I. T. Palriquet, gar.

MENDING EMPORIUM OPENED.

Misses Gibbons and McKinley Run a Novel Establishment.

Misses Mary E. Gibbons and Winnie A. McKinley have leased room No. 10, in Sutherland's block over Weisend's clothing store, and this morning opened what will be known as the Jamesville Mending Emporium. They will repair and press men's clothing, make cloaks and do general mending. Both ladies are experienced tailoresses, having been in the employ of J. L. Ford & Son for the past five or six years. There is a good opening for an establishment of that kind, and The Gazette bespeaks for the ladies a liberal patronage.

490 CUTTERS PASSED IN AN HOUR

Walter Helm Kept Tab On Sleighing Parties Yesterday.

Everybody who could get a horse and cutter was out for a ride yesterday, and the streets were black with sleighs. Walter Helms sat by a window for an hour—from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock p. m., and during that time, by actual count, 490 horses and sleighs, passed his residence.

Told in Confidence.

Mark Hanna, chairman of the republican national committee, isn't a storyteller. So he doesn't tell this story on himself. Another man around the republican headquarters tells it on the chairman, however. It was when Mr. Hanna was at the republican national convention at St. Louis last June. Everybody knew that McKinley was going to be nominated for the presidency, but the important question was who would be the vice-presidential nominee. There were a dozen candidates, Henry Clay Evans, Lippett, Brown, Hastings, and others, most of whose names are now forgotten. Everybody believed that whoever the McKinley strength supported would be the nominee, and everybody was anxious to know who Mr. Hanna favored for the office. A politician in search of information met Mr. Hanna on the eve of the second day of the nomination.

"Who will be nominated?" he asked.

"McKinley, of course," replied Hanna.

"Oh, pshaw, of course, of course, but I want to know about the vice-presidency."

The two men drew away from the others and then Mr. Hanna whispered:

"Do you want to know the name of the next vice-president?"

"Yes," was the eager reply.

"I am sure I don't know. I think you had better consult a clairvoyant."

To Ship Cattle to the States.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 1.—Canadian cattle dealers believe, through the favorable arrangements made by the dominion authorities for the raising of the forty days quarantine on Canadian cattle going into the United States, they will be able to build up a valuable export trade. It is understood the quarantine regulation requiring that all cattle sent to the United States from Canada shall be quarantined forty days before permission can be obtained to sell them, will be abrogated to-morrow, and in expectation of this some $10,000 worth of cattle brought here the last few days are being held to ship to Buffalo on that day.

May Be an Extra Session.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—It seems probable now that no attempt will be made to pass a revenue law at this session of the legislature. It is understood that Governor Tanner prefers to reserve this subject for an extra session, to be called for next winter, exclusively for revenue legislation. There is a feeling among members that the subject cannot be handled in the proper way at a regular session. Governor Tanner's plan, therefore, is likely to meet with cordial approval.

FRANCE IS ALARMED.

Her Population Remains Almost Stationary—Germany's Large Increase.

Paris, Feb. 1.—Dr. Bertillon, early during the present month, said that the result of the French census is simply appalling, and that unless a miraculous change for the better takes place, France will soon disappear as a great nation.

Germany, in 1841, it appears, had about the same population as France, but today she is credited with having 14,000,000 of inhabitants more than France. Then, again, during the last five years, the population of Germany has increased by 3,000,000, while that of France, in the same period, has only increased 175,000.

Finally, it is shown, that in 1873 the number of young men on the lists for military service was about the same in Germany and France, whereas today the number of German conscripts is 450,000, while the French conscripts only number 330,000.

ANNEXATION TALK.

Hawaiian Question to Be Dealt With in Extra Session.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The annexation of Hawaii will, it is understood here, be one of the questions considered in the extra session.

The platform adopted by the republicans at St. Louis says with reference to the question: "The Hawaiian islands should be controlled by the United States and no foreign power should be permitted to interfere with them." The words control and annexation are by the republicans here held to be synonymous. It is interesting to recall that Senator Sherman has declared himself in the senate in favor of annexation.

IS HE
"A GOOD ONE?"

MRS. DIXON, 68 Chatham street, Jamesville, suffered with rheumatism eight years. Had been treated by many physicians and taken "sure cures" but constantly grew worse until she was helpless. Her case became well known as a hopeless one. M. Alden Morehouse, the New York So. dist., now permanently located at the Murdock Flats, North Franklin street, was called to see her a month ago. His friends advised him to refuse the case as it was incurable and would only injure his business. He did not fear such a result and at once began a preparatory course in nerve, s. in and muscle feeding to prepare her system for remedies which are to follow. People then said: "The can do anything for Mrs. Dixon he is a good one." After one month of preparatory treatment he has her permission to ask all who are interested, for themselves or for others, to call and see what improvement has already taken place and then answer for themselves the question, as above.

CASH FOR THE POOR
STILL COMING IN

APPEAL FOR HELP IS RESPONDED TO.

L. B. Carle Gives $25 and Several Smaller Donations Are Reported. In Addition to the Clothing, Bedding, Etc.—Store Used For Headquarters Is Now Open.

Janesville people are not slow to respond when the call for help for the poor is heard.

Hardly had Mayor Baines' proclamation been issued before the replies began to come in.

Many people gave clothing, bedding, and other supplies. Others gave money, and the River street headquarters has been a busy place today.

Alderman George McKay, the Third ward member of the committee, today turned in $35 in cash. L. B. Carle gave $25, and O. K. Bennett and A. E. Matheson $5 each. F. S. Winslow is in charge of the headquarters, and the store was opened this morning. The committee has issued the following statement:

Parties having any kind of furniture which they wish to donate to the charity committee can notify any member of the committee and it will be called for. The committee will have a sale and buy groceries for the needy. Most every family has on hand some piece of furniture they do not care to keep, or clothing, bedding, etc. Those who wish can leave the same at the store, next door to Thompson's grocery, on South River street, or names can be left there. This morning the store was opened at 8 o'clock to receive donations. Let everybody appoint themselves a committee and ascertain where those who need help are. Every neighborhood should make it a business to see that help is at once furnished to all who are entitled to it and no frills put on in at once relieving them.

By Order of Committee.

JOHN HEATH LOYAL
TO HIS HOME TOWN

C. & N. W. MASTER MECHANIC
LIKES JANESVILLE.

Instead of Forcing Janesville Employes Out Of Town, He Is Sending Engines Here For Repairs That Local Machinists May Not Be "Laid Off" During Dull Times.

"I think too much of Janesville to do anything to force any Chicago & Northwestern employe to leave that city," said Master Mechanic John Heath of Chicago, when a Janesville friend met him at that city. "If anything should happen, and I should lose my present position, I would be back in Janesville inside of twenty-four hours."

That is the way Mr. Heath feels toward the Bower City, and he has shown his loyalty to the town in which he lived so many years, by deed as well as by word.

No machinist in the Janesville shops has been laid off during these dull times—thanks to Mr. Heath—but two engines have been sent to this city to be repaired, in order that Janesville people may be kept employed. Not only that, but three more—numbers 773, 193 and 626—will arrive here next week. It costs the company more to repair engines here, but Mr. Heath is a Janesville man at heart, and he is therefore sending the engines to his old home, that Janesville workmen may be kept busy, when by rights the work should be done in Chicago. Therefore, instead of issuing an order that Janesville men should move to other cities, Master Mechanic Heath has issued orders to keep Janesville men in Janesville, and give them employment, too. Janesville people have always had a high regard for Mr. Heath, and he has always deserved their esteem.

A HOLIDAY SONG.

A little way from Workaday,
Down the small slope of mild desire,
There swings a gate to bar the way
With roses and sweetbrier.
While you and I, when time is ripe,
Upon its fragrant threshold stand
And look across the harvest fields
In fruitful Leisureland.

In Leisureland the breath, like balm,
Sighs from the moist lips easily;
The eyes shine clear; the brow is calm;
The heart beats full and free;
There is no sound of fret nor strife,
Of urging call nor harsh command.
One drinks a fresh, sweet draft of life
In blessed Leisureland.

The birds sing soft; the cushats coo;
The breeze just whispers to the flowers,
Deep lined with autumn as they fade,
To mark the peaceful hours;
The dancing brooklets wider sweep,
All voiceless where the blue flags stand,
Rocking the drowsy bees to sleep
In restful Leisureland.

Then come while harvest moon is full,
Sweetheart, adown the sloping way
And whisper secrets to my soul
Too dear for common day.
A little space for thee and me,
Which, heart to heart and hand in hand,
Apart from weary Workaday,
We'll spend in Leisureland.

—Grace E. Denison.

CAPTURED BY A GIRL.

Day was breaking when Captain Suarez of the schooner Chimba emerged from his cabin and began to pace back and forth upon his quarter deck. He was scarce 25, but his bearing plainly indicated that he had seen long service at sea. He had not made more than a dozen turns fore and aft when a girl came tripping lightly to his side.

"Ah, sister, you are early! I am afraid your dreams could not have been pleasant to drive you to the deck so soon."

"Say not so, brother Carlos. The visions which last night visited my pillow were of the sweetest, for they showed to me that our cause was bound to meet with success, and that the would be dictator, Balmaceda, would be driven in disgrace from Chile by his indignant countrymen."

"Ah, Isadel, as enthusiastic a patriot as ever!" returned the sailor. "I would that the sons of Chile possessed the spirit of some of her daughters."

"Nay, Carlos, do not malign your companions. But, brother, when and where do you expect to make a harbor? By this time our army must be sadly in need of the arms and ammunition which you have."

"If fortune favors us, we shall have our anchor down in the port of Iquique before another sunrise."

At that instant a voice from the main topmast crossrees caused brother and sister, as well as the crew of the vessel, to start with apprehension:

"Smoke, oh! Two points on the port bow."

"But supposing it should be one of Balmaceda's vessels?" asked the young girl anxiously as she grasped her brother's arm.

"Then our voyage will have a speedy ending unless I can succeed in hoodwinking her officers, for escape would be out of the question."

An hour later the sun had burned away the mists of night, and perhaps a mile distant was a brig rigged steamer. Presently a puff of white smoke jetted out over the bow of the pursuing craft, and the boom of a gun was borne to the ears of those on board the smaller vessel.

"That means for us to heave to, Isadel, and show our colors."

"But who are they, Carlos—friends or enemies?"

"They belong to the other party, and we may expect the worst. Had you not better go below to your stateroom until we learn the result of the coming meeting?"

"Yes, Carlos, I will leave the deck if you will promise me one thing."

"And that is?"

"To follow these instructions to the letter. Read them carefully, and then destroy the paper. Farewell, brother," and, with a fervent hand clasp, Isadel Suarez hurried below.

As his sister disappeared through the companionway the captain glanced at the note. When his eyes fell upon the writing, he started in surprise, but as he continued to read a smile broke over his features.

The captain now ordered the Chilean flag to be hoisted to the main peak, saying, as he saw the bunting fluttering aloft, "We are still sons of Chile and will meet either friend or foe beneath her ensign."

"Schooner, ahoy! Who are you, and where from?"

"The Chimba, from Callao for Valparaiso."

"Aye, aye! Stay where you are, and I'll send a boat aboard."

Soon a cutter from the man-of-war was alongside, and an officer stepped to the deck and demanded to see the papers of the schooner, with a list of her cargo, stores and crew.

Without the slightest hesitation the young commander placed a bundle of official looking documents on the table in the cabin before his visitor, and then stepped back a pace. One after another the papers were closely scrutinized until the stranger reached the vessel's clearance.

"It strikes me there is something wrong about this. The seal of the Peruvian government does not look just right."

"It is as I received it but an hour before leaving port, senior."

"How long ago were you in Callao?"

"We sailed a week today."

"Again something strange, captain, for we ourselves were in that port shortly before that time, and I am positive there was no such vessel as the schooner Chimba in the harbor then."

"If you have any doubts as to the honesty of our purpose," quickly remarked the captain, "could you not send six or eight men with us to Valparaiso. The crew is small, and I will gladly relinquish command to any one whom you may detail for the service."

"It might be better for us to take you in tow ourselves, but I will lay the matter before our commander. Remain boys to until I return."

Scarcely had the unwelcome visitor left than Isadel emerged from her stateroom and joined her brother.

"You have done well, Carlos!" she exclaimed. "Now, listen! You must not let them know we are related. I am simply a passenger. Let two of your best men be armed and placed in my room under my instructions. Leave the rest to me. Our captors will not offer such an indignity to a Chilean lady as to attempt to enter her private apartment."

Ten minutes later the boat was again alongside.

"Captain," said the officer, "I am ordered to take charge of this vessel and conduct her to Valparaiso, and I regret to say you must consider yourself a prisoner and keep to your room."

"Very well, senior, but rather hard usage for an honest seaman, I should say," returned the captain. "I have a lady passenger on board, whom I trust you will treat with the respect that is due her station."

"Believe me, captain, she shall find in me a gentleman."

The armed sailors of the man-of-war went about the work of trimming sail, while those belonging to the schooner were sent to the forecabin under guard. The government vessel steamed away to the northward, while the Chimba headed almost due south.

A little later Captain Suarez introduced his sister as Senorita Legaro to Lieutenant Godoy of the Chilean navy, and the day wore away most pleasantly, at least to the officer.

At midnight Isadel heard the lieutenant descend the cabin stairs, and, still wearing his side arms, throw himself upon a sofa to enjoy a little sleep.

Nearly an hour was allowed to slip by; then, cautiously lifting the heavy draperies which concealed the entrance to her room, Isadel peered into the dimly lighted cabin, and two stalwart forms glided quickly by her.

Without the slightest sound the sailors threw themselves upon the sleeper, and Lieutenant Godoy awoke to find himself a prisoner.

"Take him to my brother's room," whispered the brave girl.

The order was obeyed, and Isadel tremblingly awaited the result—not long, however; for in a little while her beloved brother stood before her attired in the uniform of the lieutenant.

The man at the wheel and the guard saluted the one whom they took to be their officer, but they were quickly undeceived by finding themselves covered with the revolvers in the hands of the two sailors.

"Surrender! Give up your arms, and you shall live," whispered the captain. The Chileans did not hesitate, but quickly relinquished their weapons.

"Now, remain where you are. Do not attempt to come forward, and remember if you move you shall be instantly shot!" And Carlos Suarez pointed toward one of the cabin windows, through which the bright barrel of a revolver glistened in the moonlight, but he did not tell his prisoners that it was a woman's hand that held it.

There were only two of the Chileans on deck, three having gone below to sleep.

They were easily overcome, and then the captain of the schooner released his own crew, and shortly all his former captors were his prisoners. When they had been disarmed and manacled, the course of the little vessel was changed and before a strong breeze it was flying away toward Iquique.

As morning broke land was in sight, and shortly after 8 o'clock the brother and sister, again standing together on deck, saw another steamer approaching. This time the stranger came from the mouth of the harbor.

Captain Suarez set his signals, and the newcomer, not stopping to ask questions, when near enough threw a line to the little craft and with her stern proudly sailed into port.

"Oh, how can I ever again face my countrymen?" groaned Lieutenant Godoy.

"You are with your countrymen now, senior," replied Isadel. "You have been misguided and mistaken. Join forces with us and help to place Chile where she belongs—among the first nations of the world."

"No, no!" he replied. "I may, as you say, have been misguided, but I cannot prove a traitor."

"I honor you for those words, senior," interposed Captain Suarez. "The fortunes of war have placed you in our hands, where you must remain until the close of hostilities."

So he did remain, but after a few weeks his captivity did not seem irksome, for the lieutenant had learned to love his fair jailer.—Boston Globe.

The Ad Man's Soliloquy.

Oh, what shall I say
In my ad. for today!
So often these "ad. days" keep coming my way!
There's little that's new,
It's as old as 'tis true
That there's nothing to equal our popular shoe.

I say it each week
In style as unique
And language as varied as e'er I can speak;
And still I must try
Again to fly high
Without a misrepresentation or lie.

I've told how they wear,
Of the style there is there,
Of the beauty and comfort and fit of each pair;
I've sung it in song
And I've "pushed it along"
For no other "good thing" e'er deserved praise so strong.

I've shown how well made
And how great was its aid
In getting, and holding, a permanent trade;
And asked if all knew
As well as some do
"That our shoes are the best paying for you."

Most people know,
And hosts of them show
That they fully appreciate where they should go;
But many still think
That we talk with a wink
And they keep many shoes that would drive men to drink.

Well, destined to win,
We'll keep clubbing it in
"Everlastingly at it" through thick and through thin,
And some day they'll all
Big people and small,
"WEAR RICHARDSON'S $2 85 BOX CALFS, that's all.

If you're ready to "try 'em on,"
just come in and see us.

LOWELL HARDWARE CO.

Fur, lace and decorative buttons are as much seen on children's garments as on those of their mother. Beading, narrow Valenciennes lace gathered into ruffles, fine velvet bands, medallion applications of lace and similar adornments are employed for guimpes, yokes and collars without reserve. Costumes of velvet, bordered with fur, in which the neck is low and the sleeves are short, to display a guimpe, are very fashionable, and lace and fur together are also used for the juvenile wardrobe. Guimpe and renaissance or Richelieu lace serves for all sorts of decorations, square berthes, large Louis XIII collars and dalmatics, the latter partly composed of batiste, and jabots crossing the bodice diagonally.

Besides cloth and thick woolen goods, which are the chief materials for children's out of door wear, exceedingly rich goods are employed. Soft, heavy silk, velvet and plush—but less plush than velvet in all its varieties—are used for indoor frocks, and in vogue, and which requires a fully developed figure within it if it is to be effective, is now made for children's wear. No one can doubt that loose clothing is much prettier for little ones and more becoming to them than tight garments, but we must have change, of course, even if it is a change for the worse.

The sailor costume in all varieties remains in favor for little boys. For those yet in skirts there are gay highland suits, consisting of a bright kilt, velvet jacket and plaid scarf crossing the jacket diagonally. Of course a Scotch cap accompanies the suit.

For the first two years of life boys and girls are dressed alike, without any special distinction, as they are simply babies. White is their preferred wear for frocks, coats, hats and even shoes. Cloth, lamb's wool, white astrakhan, flannel, ermine, serve for outside wear, while dresses are of serge, cashmere, nun's veiling or flannel. White felt hats are worn, or hoods of white silk.

The illustration shows a little girl's coat of cloth. There are two plaits at the back and two bands of velvet in front, separated by a band of embroidery. The velvet pelierine has revers of embroidered grosgrain silk, and the lower part of the sleeves is also embroidered.

FOR LITTLE FOLK.

Gowns, Bonnets and Cloaks for Children. Appropriate Colors.

For very little children full gowns, gathered or plaited on a yoke, are almost always employed. They are adorned with small berthes of lace or trimmings of fur and ribbon outlining the yoke, the neck, the wrists and the edge of the skirt. Long cloaks of the same order are likewise worn, a capuchin being added, not merely for ornament, as it can, if necessary, be drawn up over the child's head. Straight jackets are also seen, buttoning over across the chest.

Little girls above 5 years of age can wear gay plaids and figured goods unsuitable for babies. Velvet, corduroy and thick cloths are used for the clothing of little boys, and for out of door wear in winter gaiters or leggings should be adopted, as knee breeches leave the legs of a little child exposed to the cold.

After the seventh or eighth year little girls may wear two piece dresses or those which give the effect of a skirt and bodice. Grown up fashions are now so much copied for children that there is no need to make particular mention of the trimmings—boleros, corslets, guimpes and chemisettes. Even draped and high collars are seen, which seem rather unsuitable for little people.

A sketch is given of a little girl's gown of broche pompadour silk. It has a yoke of guipure cut in points and edged with feather trimming. The sleeves have cuffs like the yoke, also bordered with feather trimming. A bow of white satin is placed at the back of the neck, and there is a wide sash of white satin, with fringed ends.

Retrospection.

Mrs. Benham—What makes you look so gloomy?
Benham—I had my pay raised today.

Mrs. Benham—I don't see why that should make you look gloomy.
Benham—I have been thinking what a time I could have on my new salary if I were single.—Town Topics.

Excusable.

Jamie, aged five, was kneeling by the bedside saying his prayers preparatory to retiring, when his little sister Mary approached him from behind and tickled the soles of his bare feet.

"Seuse me little while, Lord," said Jamie, arising to his feet, "till I knock the stuffin' out of sister Mary."—Washington Times.

Unsatisfactory Diet.

A clergyman whose salary had not been paid for several months told the trustees that he must have his money, as his family were suffering for want of the necessities of life.

"Money!" exclaimed one of the trustees, noted for his stinginess, "do you preach for money? I thought you preached for the good of souls."

The minister replied:
"So I do; but I can't eat souls. And if I could, it would take 1,000 such as yours to make a meal."—Tit-Bits.

ALL the different forms of skin troubles, from chapped hands to eczema and indolent ulcers, can be readily cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. C. D. Stevens.

On the 1st, Pa., "Herald," Richard Vessel reports One Minute Cough Cure the greatest success of medical science. He told us that it cured his whole family of terrible coughs and colds, after all other so called cures had failed entirely. Mr. Vessel said it assisted his children through a very bad siege of measles. One Minute Cough Cure makes expectoration very easy and rapid. C. D. Stevens.

Lost—A dear little child—who made home happy by its smiles. And to think, it might have been saved had the parents only kept in the house One Minute Cough Cure, the infallible remedy for croup. C. D. Stevens.

I have given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient, although I use it freely. Any cold or children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.—GEO. E. WOLFF, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Ferdinand, Fla. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee.

Mr. Ward L. Smith, of Fredericktown, Mo., was troubled with chronic diarrhoea for over thirty years. He had become fully satisfied that it was only a question of a short time until he would have to give up. He had been treated by some of the best physicians in Europe and America but got no permanent relief. One day he picked up a newspaper and chanced to read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He got a bottle of it, the first dose helped him and its constant use cured him. For sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee.

A few months ago, Mr. Byron Every, of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee.
